

Catherine is an Environmental Studies major with a Geography concentration, and is also studying Social Work and International Development. She is a senior from Grand Rapids, and is returning to Calvin this fall after through hiking the Appalachian Trail. This year she serves as the FYRES Coordinator, working alongside Professor van Dijk and the other mentors. As one of the first FYRES students she researched the effectiveness of management efforts at North Beach Park, and is excited to return to the program. She hopes to learn more about
