

Read everything in this lesson aloud with your group, taking turns. You can bring hard copies for participants, or they can read along on their mobile devices from the website (www.calvin.edu/faith). Also, be sure to review the lesson in advance and choose which of the optional discussion questions you may wish to pursue. Due to the length of some lessons, you are encouraged to skip some of the questions.