

Epaphroditus had carried the Philippians' gift to Paul (as we will see in Philippians 4:18).

Paul expresses thanks that Epaphroditus recovered, sparing him from having "one sorrow piled on top of another" (v. 27). How do you respond to the

How does Paul demonstrate that he was looking after the Philippians' interests a

Paul urges the Philippians to hold people like Epaphroditus "in special respect" (v. 29).

God' transforming grace? How, specifically, has this experience changed you/them?
If you have never experienced a powerful example of God's transformation, what makes

What would be an equivalent to Paul's conversion in the contemporary Church?